

Success Story | einfall7 GmbH & bexio

«bexio is the simple solution for writing quotes and invoices and to have an overview of the business figures at any time.»
Michael Eugster from einfall7 GmbH.

The business

The manufactory in Oberuzwil, which specializes in planning and implementing interior design projects and furniture design, has been relying on bexio business software for around a year now. Before using bexio, the team worked with a software solution that was only installed and available locally on one device. Michael Eugster remembers that the team was always so dependent on this computer being free and available. Constantly arranging taking turns was inefficient and time-consuming. In addition to this inflexibility, the license for this software was comparatively expensive.

It therefore quickly became clear that the next step was switching to bexio and thus to a web-based software. Together with their own growth and the increasing administrative tasks as well as the increasing complexity, the decision was made to use bexio. By using this software they were able to professionalize their quotes and accounting processes. The fact that the software is web-based and the data is stored in certified Swiss computer centers was a clear advantage. Complicated cooperation on only one local computer thus became a thing of the past. In addition, bexio offers the possibility of writing quotes and invoices quickly and easily. As einfall7 continued to grow, this also became an important criterion for their business software. «The use of bexio enables us to professionalize our quotation and accounting system. The choice of bexio was not a difficult one for us», says Michael Eugster.

Our conclusion on bexio business software

With bexio, the team at einfall7 can be as flexible as it wants to be. Annoying work on only one computer on which software is installed locally is no longer necessary when working with bexio. In addition, the company always keeps an eye on its company figures and, thanks to its connection to e-banking, no longer misses any unpaid invoices. «Since we have been working with bexio, we have definitely become much more efficient,» confirms Michael Eugster. «We were able to greatly simplify our processes!»

«The bexio software offers an SME a platform for professional, fast and agile work. And at a very attractive price,» says Michael Eugster.
